

Mario-isms

This page has expressions, quotes, advice, reflections, and messages dealing with leadership and life in general. They are ones that others have attributed to me as having said to them – probably because they were tired of hearing them. Some are original, some I have heard or seen somewhere and some are interpreted or adapted by me. I make the disclosure that these mario-isms are not always grammatically correct or even good representation of the English Language, I always hoped others understood what I meant more than what I said.

- Any idea is a good idea for 15 seconds.
- If not you then who?
- Remember who you are.
- You will never miss it from your salary.
- You're only as good as your last performance.
- You can't get there from here.
- Everything happens for a reason.
- You have to get up pretty early to fool this guy.
- Start with No! It can change to yes later.
- Well, isn't that special?
- That's why you are in this job and they are not.
- Keep your friends close, and your enemies closer.
- Give people enough rope and they will hang themselves.

- If you want to act like an independent agent, we can have that arranged.
- You guys are killing me!
- Be careful what you wish for.
- Are you crazy?
- Do not do for one, what you cannot do for all.
- You see what you look for.
- You hear what you listen for.
- You agree with what you want to believe.
- Remember... they are no smarter than you.
- We are either serving students or we are serving those who are serving students.